OUT OF MANY CULTURES, ONE PEOPLE

This Black History Month, we celebrate the vast and vibrant tapestry of the African Diaspora. From the Caribbean to the African continent, and across the Americas to Europe, we are a global family defined by diverse traditions and a shared, unbreakable bond. We honor the many journeys that have shaped our rich identity, standing together as a testament to resilience, joy, and a powerful collective legacy.

OUR FOUNDATION

To honor the theme "Out of Many Cultures, One People," CCAH remains dedicated to the core values that turn our diverse history into a shared future. Our work is grounded in four essential pillars that ensure every member of our global diaspora is supported, heard, and celebrated:

These pillars are the heartbeat of our organization, guiding us as we move together with one spirit and one purpose.

EDUCATION

We partner with organizations in Halton Region to empower youth through leadership development and Caribbean cultural education. Our goal is to empower youth to reach their full potential.

CULTURE

We promote Caribbean culture and history by celebrating our rich diversity and fostering inclusiveness through a variety of programs and initiatives across the Halton Region aimed at building greater awareness and stronger community connections

COMMUNITY

We are dedicated to delivering programs and events that foster meaningful community engagement and enhance awareness of Caribbean history and culture across the Halton Region

HARMONY

We value togetherness and engage with individuals and groups from diverse backgrounds through our programs and initiatives. Through this work, we aim to build inclusive communities and support cross-cultural collaboration.

HOUSE OF COMMONS
CHAMBRE DES COMMUNES
CANADA

February 2026

Dear Oakville Friends and Neighbours,

During Black History Month, we honour and celebrate the profound contributions that Black Canadians have made to Canada's industries, communities, and cultural heritage throughout our history.

This year's theme, "Out of Many Cultures, One People," reflects how strong communities are built — by recognizing different histories and making space for everyone to belong. As the Member of Parliament for Oakville East, I see firsthand how inclusion, respect, and participation strengthen our community.

I would like to thank the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) for their leadership and continued work in bringing people together. Since 1977, the CCAH has played an important role in fostering connection, understanding, and celebration of Afro-Caribbean cultural heritage in Oakville and across Halton through its programs and community initiatives.

Our government continues to work toward building more inclusive communities and addressing systemic barriers faced by Black Canadians. Through sustained investments, we have supported Black-led organizations, entrepreneurs, and community initiatives nationwide. Budget 2025 builds on this work by reinforcing support for community-driven programs, economic participation, and mental health initiatives, recognizing that meaningful progress is achieved through partnerships rooted in local leadership.

As we celebrate Black History Month, we are reminded that creating a more equitable and united Canada is a shared responsibility. By honouring the contributions of Black Canadians and learning from our collective history, we are building Canada strong and working toward a future where everyone has the opportunity to belong and thrive.

As always, my constituency office is open Monday to Friday and can be reached by email at anita.anand@parl.gc.ca or by phone at 905-338-2008 should you have any questions, concerns or issues to bring forward.

Yours truly,

Greetings From Our Community Leaders

Message from Regional Chair Gary Carr

On behalf of Regional Council, I extend my best wishes to the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) as you kick off celebrations for Black History Month, celebrating the theme "Out of Many Cultures, One People".

Every year, the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton brings our community together through powerful programs and educational initiatives that shine a light on the rich heritage and meaningful contributions, past and present, of Black people here in Halton and around the world.

Black History Month is more than a celebration; it's an opportunity to learn, reflect and connect with each other. When we understand and honour diverse lived experiences, we help build a community that is welcoming, inclusive, and stronger for everyone.

To the Board of Directors and volunteers at the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton, thank you for decades of leadership and the valuable work you do to promote equity, diversity and inclusion. Because of you, Halton is a place where people can live, grow and thrive!

Sincerely,

Greetings from Mayor Burton

I am pleased to support the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) in the kick-off to "Black History Month February 2026" on behalf of the Town of Oakville, my colleagues on Town Council and Oakville residents.

Our town takes pride in recognizing and celebrating the diverse contributions of our Black African and Caribbean community members. Their contributions have and continue to enrich Oakville's cultural fabric.

This year's theme of "Out of Many Cultures, One People" serves as a valuable opportunity to honour the many cultures that make up the Black African Caribbean diaspora. The CCAH programming planned strongly reflects our dedication to honouring and learning from the experiences and achievements of this diverse community.

We look forward to the performances, events and educational opportunities being offered during the 2026 Black History Month and throughout the year. I anticipate engaging and enlightening experiences for all.

Please accept my best wishes for a very successful and memorable Black History Month.

Yours very sincerely,

Rob Burton, Mayor

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
CITY OF BURLINGTON

Dear Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton,

On behalf of the City of Burlington, I extend heartfelt appreciation to the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton for your leadership in celebrating Black History Month and promoting cultural awareness throughout our Region. Your commitment to education, community engagement, and advocacy for equity and inclusion reflects values that are essential to building a vibrant and welcoming Burlington.

One of my top priorities as Mayor is to promote community pride so everyone feels welcome and included. The work of CCAH—through programs that foster cultural understanding, youth empowerment, and social justice—aligns perfectly with this vision. By sharing stories of resilience, achievement, and heritage, you help strengthen the fabric of our Burlington and inspire future generations.

I am proud that Burlington continues to lead in recognizing Black history, including our proclamation of August as Emancipation Month and our annual raising of the Pan-African Flag at City Hall. These actions, along with partnerships with organizations like CCAH, demonstrate our shared commitment to equity and inclusion.

Together, we celebrate Black culture and history, and the many contributions of the Black community to Halton Region. Best wishes for a successful and inspiring Black History Month of 2026.

Sincerely,

Member of Parliament
Milton East—Halton Hills South

February 2026

To the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) in Celebration of Black History Month 2026

In December 1995, the House of Commons unanimously passed a motion to recognize February as Black History Month, following the leadership of Jean Augustine, the first Black woman elected to Parliament. In 2026, we mark 30 years of Black History Month at the federal level, building on an important tradition that began in Toronto in 1979.

It is my honour to join the Black community in Halton in celebrating the rich contributions of Black Canadians, and to support the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton and other community organizations across the region. I am especially pleased to recognize your launch event on Monday, February 2 at 6:00 pm at the Oakville Centre for Performing Arts.

This year's theme, Out of Many Cultures, One People is reminiscent of the national motto of Jamaica and speaks powerfully to unity without uniformity, a recognition that while our stories and cultures are diverse, our shared history and future bind us together.

Our government remains committed to supporting and empowering Black communities across Canada. The Black Entrepreneurship Program, which has supported more than 24,000 Black entrepreneurs nationwide, was renewed in October 2025 with an investment of $189 million. This work is complemented by initiatives such as Canada's 2024-2028 Anti-Racism Strategy and the Supporting Black Canadian Communities Initiative.

Happy Black History Month!

BURLINGTON NORTH – MILTON WEST

To the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) in recognition of Black History Month 2026

Black History Month is a time to celebrate the histories, achievements, and ongoing contributions of Black communities across Canada, while also reflecting on our shared responsibility to build a more just and inclusive society. For over 30 years, Canadians have marked this month as a national opportunity to honour Black Canadians' rich legacy and lasting impact on our country. As the Member of Parliament for Burlington North—Milton West, I have personally witnessed the hard work, dedication, and commitment of the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton and its members across the region. I am proud to have a government that continues to listen to community leaders, including the CCAH, to enact meaningful changes and introduce programs for the betterment of our communities. Initiatives such as the Black Entrepreneurship Program, the Anti-Racism Action Program, the Supporting Black Canadian Communities Initiative, and strategies like Canada's Black Justice Strategy are helping to create opportunities, support leadership, and address systemic barriers.

This year's theme, Out of Many Cultures, One People, reminds us that our differences are what make us stronger, and that we are connected by the values we share. Black History Month is not just a time to celebrate, but a moment to reflect and take action whether it's speaking out against racism, supporting Black communities, or uplifting Black-led businesses and organizations.

I am truly grateful for the work you do every day to make Halton a more inclusive and vibrant community. Thank you for your leadership, your dedication, and the example you set for all of us. Wishing everyone a happy and meaningful Black History Month!

Sincerely,

Hon. Adam van Koeverden, P.C. M.P.

To the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) in Celebration of Black History Month 2026

As we mark Black History Month, I want to extend my sincere appreciation to the organizers, volunteers, and community leaders behind the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton for creating space to recognize and celebrate Black history, culture, and achievements across Canada.

This year's national theme, "30 Years of Black History Month: Honouring Black Brilliance Across Generations—From Nation Builders to Tomorrow's Visionaries," invites us to reflect on the enduring legacy of Black Canadians and the many ways Black leadership, creativity, and resilience have helped shape our country. It is also a meaningful reminder that the work of building stronger, more inclusive communities continues, through education, community partnerships, and sustained action against anti-Black racism.

Black History Month is an opportunity not only to honour the stories and contributions of those who came before us, but also to uplift the innovators, artists, entrepreneurs, educators, and advocates who will lead us into the decades next. In Oakville West and across Halton, community-led initiatives like yours help ensure these stories are shared, remembered, and celebrated, especially by the next generation.

Thank you for your continued leadership and commitment to strengthening community through recognition, learning, and connection. Please accept my warmest wishes for a meaningful, inspiring, and impactful Black History Month.

Greetings From Our Community Leaders

Greetings from Stephen Crawford, Member of the Provincial Parliament

It is an honour to extend warm greetings to the CCAH and to everyone joining in the 2026 Black History Month celebrations.

This year's theme, "Out of Many Cultures, One People," beautifully reflects the strength, richness, and unity that diversity brings to our communities. The four pillars of education, culture, community, and harmony are values that truly resonate here in Oakville and across Halton Region, and they serve as a powerful reminder of the importance of inclusion, understanding, and shared respect.

Black History Month provides an opportunity for all of us to reflect on the invaluable contributions of Black Canadians, past and present, whose leadership, resilience, creativity, and innovation continue to shape our province and our country. It is also a time to recommit ourselves to building stronger, more inclusive communities where everyone has the opportunity to thrive.

I commend the CCAH and its partners for your dedication and leadership in organizing these meaningful celebrations, and for your ongoing work to bring people together through education, culture, and community engagement.

Wishing you every success with your 2026 launch celebration and the many events to follow. May this year's Black History Month be one of inspiration, reflection, and unity for all.

Stephen Crawford,
Member of Provincial Parliament
Oakville

Hon. Zee Hamid

Member of Provincial Parliament - Milton

RE: Letter of Greetings to CCAH January 12th, 2025 The Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton is an organization that continues to do important and influential work in Milton and the greater Halton Region. I am incredibly proud of CCAH's achievements and the impact they have had on our community, especially our Black community members. This year's theme, "Out of Many Cultures, One People," is very significant. It is a powerful reminder of how Black Canadians are united by a shared heritage, one of resilience, strength, and determination. As allies, it is our job to ensure that we support and stand with those who are marginalized and underrepresented in order to understand why we observe Black History Month each year. I am wishing CCAH a successful Black History Month event and I am so honoured to join in on such an important event. Thank you for your work in and around our community. I am always excited to see what you have planned next. Happy Black History Month!

Sincerely,

The Honourable Zee Hamid, MPP

Greetings From Our Community Leaders

February, 2026.

Happy Black History Month!

The Oakville Community Foundation extends our greetings and well wishes to the Canadian Caribbean Association of Halton (CCAH) as you launch Black History Month 2026! Your dedication to local celebrations and community education is a vital part of what makes Oakville such a special place.

This year's theme, "Out of Many Cultures, One People," unites us all across diverse places and languages as we appreciate our shared identity and foster mutual respect for each other's cultural roots.

The Foundation is proud to have partnered with CCAH for many years on a wide array of projects. We are thrilled to again be a part of bringing the CCAH Steel Pan Band to Oakville's publicly funded elementary schools, as part of our Community Classroom program.

Our organizations have a strong history of collaboration on many projects, and we are continuously grateful for the leadership, thoughtfulness and important work that CCAH brings to encourage learning and generosity in our community.

Congratulations and thank you for all that you do!

Through virtual tours, digitized artifacts, hands-on activities, and interactive storytelling, this inquiry-based education program immerses students in shared historical experiences. Students explore Oakville's role in the Underground Railroad, including the significance of Oakville Harbour and key figures connected to the journey to freedom. Learning is supported through the exhibition Freedom, Opportunity and Family: Oakville's Black History, excerpts from The Underground Railroad: Next Stop Freedom, and contemporary stories from the CCAH documentaries Legacy Voices and Legacy Voices 2.

February 2-February 27: Community and Harmony CCAH Steel Band | Halton Catholic District School Board and Halton District School Board

As part of Oakville Community Foundation's Community Classroom initiative and the generous support of the Burlington Community Foundation, the CCAH Steel Band will be performing at participating Oakville elementary schools and Burlington all grades schools as part of the Black History Month and the 2026 school term. Community and Harmony Classrooms will continue until June for schools not able to participate during Black History Month.

February 7: Museum Walking Tour: Oakville and the Underground Railroad | Oakville Museum | 8 Navy Street | Ages 13 and older | Register at www.oakville.ca

Offered by the Oakville Museum, this unique indoor/outdoor tour offers a fascinating glimpse into the history of the Underground Railroad in Oakville. First, see the exhibit "Freedom, Opportunity, and Family: Oakville's Black History." Then, watch the exciting multimedia presentation "The Underground Railroad: Next Stop Freedom," which tells a true story about escaping from slavery. The tour ends with an outdoor walk highlighting the local history of Oakville and the Underground Railroad.

February 14: CCAH Reading Corner | In Partnership with Milton Public Library | Holcim Gallery, FirstOntario Arts Centre

Join the CCAH and MPL as we celebrate children's books written by Black authors that have been featured as part of our partnership Reading Corner program with MPL since 2021. This year, we will feature Nadia Hohn. Engage with authors and participate in craft activities. This parented family-friendly program is geared towards children under 10 years old.

Why We Celebrate

Black History Month is a time to reflect on the many histories, cultures, and traditions that have shaped our community. From Africa to the Caribbean and across the diaspora, these stories speak to resilience, creativity, and connection. As we honour the past, we also recognize that this history continues to live through culture, community, and shared experiences today.

CCAH 2025 YEAR IN REVIEW

Celebrating 48 years of cultural impact in Halton

Message from Sheldon D. Williams, President, Board of Directors

As we reflect on the past year, CCAH is filled with gratitude for the support of our staff, volunteers, members, community partners, and funders. We believe arts and culture are an integral component of community well-being and we remain committed to enriching Halton through programs and services that celebrate and promote Canadian Caribbean heritage and culture.

Message from Dionne Downer, Executive Director

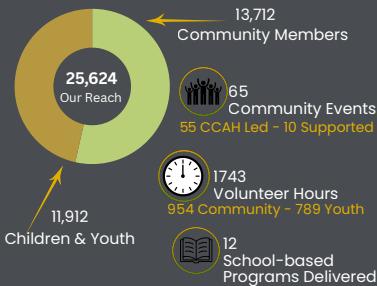

I am proud of what we accomplished in 2025 and the meaningful impact it had on our community. Through accessible programming, we brought people together across generations through film, music, education, summer camp, and Black History Month programming. We look forward to continuing to serve the Halton community with high-quality cultural heritage programming.

2025 HIGHLIGHTS

Black History Month: Creating Harmony

CCAH brought the Halton community together through culturally enriching events celebrating Caribbean and Black heritage. Programming included a high-energy kickoff, live music performances, art exhibits, film screenings, and opportunities to share stories, food, and cultural traditions.

IMPACT BY THE NUMBERS

LOOKING AHEAD

2025 marked a year of transition as we celebrated the retirement of long-serving board members Pam Chase and Saud Juman, and welcomed new board members Emmanuel Ibenye, Nerissa Farley, Antoine Aurelis, Olly Hughes, and Alicia Munian. We are grateful to our supporters, volunteers, partners, and the Halton community for a year of growth, inclusion, and impact, and we look ahead to an exciting and impactful 2026.

Music & Cultural Performances

Throughout the year, CCAH delivered intergenerational Steelpan and Parang programs, culminating in vibrant performances for students in classrooms, seniors in residences and long-term care facilities, and community audiences at public events across Halton, including Oakville's Bronte Heritage Waterfront Park.

Education, Children & Youth

CCAH engaged 35+ schools across Halton, delivering cultural education through music performances, art exhibit tours, film screenings, culinary workshops, and youth empowerment programming. In 2025, 150 youth participated in the Youth Leadership Summer Program, supported by Halton Regional Police Services and Sheridan College. Our fourth annual Summer Day Camp welcomed 280 children over seven weeks, while 20 youth gained hands-on leadership experience through our Leaders in Training program.
